

ALEXANDRIA.

SATURDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 20, 1887.

"Solid Against the Reign of Mahoneism"—Virginia Democrats Harmonious and Hopeful. Such are the head lines of a new paragraph found in the last issue of the Cincinnati Enquirer. Everywhere amongst democrats, there seems to be an awakening to the necessity of keeping Mahone out of the U. S. Senate. As Mahone, according to high republican authority, subordinates everything to his extreme selfishness and unholily personal greed, so there appears to be a disposition without as well as within the State to meet him on his chosen ground and to make the fight against him as personal as he would conduct it on his own behalf. A republican from Virginia, who is by no means his enemy, gave it as his opinion to-day that the opposition to Mahone in this campaign was more united and dangerous than he had ever before seen it. Yost, Gaines, Hooper, Riddleberger, Lewis, Brady, Cameron, Blair, et id omne, appear fully to realize the situation and the necessity for not only fighting now, but of continuing to fight Mahone's leadership of their party. Some of the results, he thought, would be, first, the defeat of Mahone's Senatorial aspirations this year; second, a divided delegation to the republican national convention next year; third, a strong and vigorous, not to say a violent, opposition to Mahone's control of federal patronage, and especially of his being tendered a cabinet place should the republicans carry the next Presidential election. "To sum it up," said he, "the present fight against him will not down at any one's bidding, and has come to stay."

The directors of the Clifton Beach Company and about two hundred invited guests went from here and Alexandria yesterday, on the steamer Arrowsmith, to Clifton Beach, formerly known as Smith's Point, Maryland, opposite Aquia Creek, on the Potomac River, where they spent a delightful day. Already considerable improvements have been made there in the way of macadamized walks, and in the erection of new buildings and the repairing and repainting of old ones. After a bounteous dinner speeches were made by ex-Congressmen Henkle, of Maryland, Hoge, of West Virginia, Commissioner Colman, of the Agricultural Bureau, and Col. H. H. Blackburn, of West Virginia. In these speeches it was stated that it was the intention of the company to make Clifton Beach the excursion resort of Washington, and equal to any of New York's similar places, and that the company would have a steamer constructed of sufficient speed to take Washington people to the beach after business hours in the evening, enable them to spend a night there, and bring them back in time for business hours in the morning.

Senator Cackrell, of Missouri, chairman of the Senate committee to investigate the causes of delay in the transaction of the business of the government departments here, to whom that committee entrusted the whole of its duty, completed that work last night, and his report is now in the hands of the public printer. The report is not as voluminous as it would have been but for the Senator's condensing powers, as the bureau chiefs seem to have extended their answers to his inquiries with the apparent intention of making them so long that nobody would take the trouble to read them. The gist of the report is that the business of the departments is way behind, in the land office alone to the extent of fifty thousand preemption claims, and that unattended to business is increasing daily, but that if the bureau chiefs would pay the same attention to the public business that they do to their private affairs, their offices would soon be relieved of all the accumulated business, and that the same result would be accomplished by the substitution of more efficient chiefs for the present ones.

The Gazette's correspondent was informed this morning that a gentleman recently traveling on the upper waters of the Amazon river was approached by a resident of that country, who, in broken English, told him he understood he was from Virginia. The gentleman responding affirmatively, the South American asked if he knew anything about Alexandria. Receiving another affirmative reply, the South American told him he had seen, in a Spanish newspaper, an extract from the Alexandria Gazette, to the effect that it was proposed to build a steamship to Alexandria that would cross the Atlantic in four days, and that the people of his country were interested in the result of the undertaking, as, if successful, they looked to it as the means of increasing greatly their commercial relations with the people of the United States. So the readers of the GAZETTE see that its contents are objects of interest to the world at large.

Capt. Norton, of the Norton Shipbuilding Co., one branch of which is at Alexandria, says he has just contracted with Reeder & Co., of Baltimore, for the construction of a thirty-ton iron steamship, on his life-saving plan, to be ready in 60 days. He would have had her built at his yard in Alexandria, but that city has not yet the facilities for such work. He says his weekly pay roll at Alexandria amounts to $300, and has since last May, and that if the trouble about the lease of his yard there were settled satisfactorily it would be a great deal more.

All Virginia pensioners of the U. S. government who have heretofore been drawing their pay from the pension agent at Knoxville will draw them hereafter from the one in this city.

VIRGINIA NEWS. Richard Rogers, esq., an aged and very worthy citizen of Middleburg, was badly injured by a vicious horse a few days ago.

A cock fight between Norfolk and Washington chickens has been arranged to take place on the suburbs of Norfolk next week.

The Board of Visitors of the University of Virginia have elected Prof. H. M. Humphreys of Texas, to the chair of Greek, lately vacated by Prof. Wheeler.

Loudoun county farmers are sending the cattle they have fed and grazed to market, realizing, in many cases, but little if any more than they cost them.

A pedlar was robbed at the colored camp-meeting near Onancock Thursday night of a check book and checks amounting to nearly $200. The thief has not been arrested.

Large shipments of sweet potatoes are being made from Accomack county to Baltimore. More than 1,500 barrels were shipped yesterday by steamer and many more loaded on sailing vessels.

The R. E. Lee battery of artillery, of Petersburg, has accepted an invitation to take part in the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner-stone of the Lee monument in Richmond in October next.

Hon. John S. Barbour, chairman of the democratic State executive committee, has appointed Major James D. Patton a member of the State executive committee to succeed Col. Archer Anderson, who resigned some time ago.

The President has signed an order transferring the names of pensioners residing in Virginia and West Virginia from the rolls of the pension agency located at Knoxville, Tenn., to the agency in Washington, to take effect November 1, 1887.

The Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Virginia will meet in Petersburg on Thanksgiving-day, November 24th. Committees have been appointed by Appomattox to look after the reception and entertainment of the grand body.

Yesterday morning an elevator rope in Porter's brewery at Norfolk, broke, precipitating the elevator on which a colored workman named Walter Wells was standing, from the third floor to the ground, Wells receiving severe and serious injuries.

General Mahone announces that the address to the republicans of the State, which was agreed upon at the meeting of the central committee some days ago, will be made public Monday next. This paper will review and criticize seriatim the planks of the platform adopted by the democratic convention recently held in Roanoke.

The store of H. B. Linkin at Middleburg was robbed of a few articles one night last week. Thieves were tracked to the cellar of the McLaughlin House, where they left a lamp burning and articles of dry goods scattered around. The mysterious disappearance of the proprietor of the store has created much anxiety among his friends and a considerable amount of gossip among his neighbors.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Charles K. Prioleau, resident partner in Liverpool of the firm of Frazer, Trenholm & Co., of Charleston, S. C., died in England yesterday, aged 61 years.

Professor Spencer F. Baird, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, director of the National Museum and United States commissioner of fish and fisheries, died at Wood's Holl, Mass., yesterday, in the 65th year of his age.

A theatre that is to cost $1,000,000 is to be erected in New York. John Stetson is to be the manager and part owner. The new house will be near the Hoffman House, with entrances from four streets, and will, it is said, exceed in splendor any building of the kind in this country.

The North German Lloyd steamer Frane, from Bremen, was carried with great force against her pier at Hoboken, N. J., yesterday, by the strong current, tearing away the entire roof of the pier. A portion of the shed fell upon the bow of the ship, striking several passengers and crew, cutting their heads and badly injuring them. A panic ensued on board the ship, which was with great difficulty quelled.

Colorow, the Ute chief who is making the disturbance in Colorado, is an enormous old savage weighing 300 pounds. He is what is known in base-ball as a "kicker." He has never been satisfied with the government, and has been more or less rebellious all his life. He used to visit Denver very often, and on one occasion went to Gov. McCook's office and became rather insolent. Governor McCook kicked Colorow out of his office and down a flight of stairs into the street.

The united labor convention at Syracuse, N. Y., yesterday nominated the following State ticket: Secretary of State, Henry George, of New York; Comptroller, Victor A. Wilder, of Kings; State Treasurer, B. H. Cummings, of Montgomery; Attorney General, Dennis C. Feely, of Monroe; State Engineer and Surveyor, Sylvanus A. Sweet, of Broome. The socialist delegates who were excluded are very angry with Henry George. The resolutions adopted favor eight hours' work for letter carriers, women equality, extending the school age in children from fourteen to sixteen years, free public libraries, a State printing department, the Australian system of a secret ballot, the prohibition of the employment of armed detectives, denounce class legislation and the misappropriation of the public funds.

Letter from Rappahannock.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

SPERRYVILLE, Rappahannock, Aug. 17.—Our quiet little village, nestled among the mountains, has never, so far as known, but seldom invited the notice of the newspaper. The whistle from the tannery of C. C. Smoot & Sons calls us to our first meal, and at eve, to refreshment and sleep, and whatever else occurs with us or in the vicinity seldom reaches the ear of the public. Our people are rural, unostentatious, contented, and never piqued with jealousy on account of the celebrity of other hamlets. But this summer it has been enlivened by the appearance in our midst of sojourners for the season, of clever gentlemen and beautiful ladies from towns and cities, and the heart of our little village throbs with unwonted excitement. Our country people, delighted with the agreeableness and amiability of our visitors, gave them a picnic, with which our young gentlemen combined a tournament. It is but doing the just thing to say that Mr. P. H. O'Bannon, the member of the Legislature from our county, was the conceiver and chief promoter of the whole affair. This gentleman charged the knights. The noble conception of thought brought out in his brief but eloquent address deserve publication. The successful knights appear below in the following brief recital of the result.

Mr. Gideon Brown Miller, Jackson-Hope medalist of the Virginia Military Institute, crowned Miss Lucy H. Cator, of Baltimore, Queen of Love and Beauty; Mr. George Kinsey crowned Miss Lula Smoot, of Alexandria, first maid of honor; Mr. Harry Miller crowned Miss Mamie Tayloe, of Fredericksburg, second maid of honor; Mr. Thos. Haywood crowned Miss Nettie Martin, of Maryland, third maid of honor.—We were pleased with the graceful manner of delivery and the eloquent language of George L. Browning, who delivered the coronation address. The royal set then took their places upon the floor erected for the purpose and initiated the terpsichorean exercises. The music for the dance was contributed by our Sperryville brass band, a new institution gotten up in our midst, and which, though organized scarcely eight months ago, plays delightfully, reflecting great credit upon their native talent and love of the art, and particularly upon their instructor, Mr. Dougherty, of Suffolk, Va. We had also excellent string music, furnished by Mr. Columbus Estis and Mr. Benton Menelee.

We note the presence of the following ladies from a distance: Mrs. Wm. B. Smoot and her sister, Miss Lucy H. Cator, from Alexandria; Miss Amanda Newton, the Misses Hill, Mrs. Hill, and the Countess Wilhelm von Stesh, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Lizzie Lane and Miss Mamie Tayloe, of Fredericksburg; Miss Kate Caskey and Miss Wade, of Richmond; Miss Sarah Taylor, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Dangerfield Lewis, of King George county, Va.; Miss Mary Spicers, of Weldon, N. C.; Miss Eastham, of West Virginia; Mrs. Gilliam, of Petersburg; Miss Agnes Coles, of Pittsburgh county. We include in this list the following gentlemen: Mr. W. B. Smoot and Mr. J. Hanson Price, of Alexandria; Mr. Harry Lane, of Fredericksburg; Mr. Robert Caskey, of Richmond; Messrs. Gilliam, of Petersburg; Mr. Lovell and Mr. Bouton, of Madison county; Mr. Strother and Mr. Williams, of Culpeper.

At nightfall the crowd reassembled at Mr. Lloyd Hisle's fine hotel and danced till a late hour, after which the crowd dispersed.

AN OBSERVER.

Seven steamers, one bark and one schooner are being built in Baltimore.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Foreign News.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 20.—The eclipse of the sun was not observed here yesterday, owing to the clouded condition of the sky. At Klin the sun was also obscured, but an aged professor named Mendeleeff made a balloon ascension alone so as to get above the clouds and take an observation. As there had been a hitch in the filing of the balloon there was considerable doubt felt as to its ability to carry the aeronaut, but the ascension was successfully made and the professor descended in safety near Moscow, 40 miles distant.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The eclipse of the sun yesterday was observed for a few minutes at sunrise at Dartmoor and Torquay. The sky was obscured by clouds at Paris and Vienna. At the latter place thousands were waiting to make observations. Prof. Vogel, of the Belgian expedition stationed at Jurjewitz, on the Volga, telegraphs that the sky was overcast, but that the solar protuberances were observed, although the corona was invisible. The Russian observers were more successful, at their various stations, obtaining numerous drawings and photographs of the corona and its spectrum.

The Standard expresses the belief that Lord Hartington and his followers will support the government's action in proclaiming the league.

In the letters of Henry M. Stanley written at Gambia, near the rapids of the Aruwimi, June 19, the explorer says the natives evacuated the place upon the arrival of the expedition, owing to fright produced by a vigorous blowing of the steamboat's whistle. They returned afterward, evincing a very amicable disposition, and promised to supply the expedition with provisions. They informed Mr. Stanley that there were other rapids higher up, more difficult of navigation, and that further progress by river would be impossible. Sir Francis De Winton, president of the Emin Bey relief committee, commenting on the letters, says he calculates that by this time Stanley and Emin Bey have met.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Journal des Debats says that the Bulgarian government has ordered 200,000 repeating rifles from an Austrian firm.

The Ute Outbreak.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 20.—Whatever may have been the cause of the Ute trouble, and whether it was justifiable, the fact remains that there is difficulty ahead, and it will only be averted by the hasty return of the renegades to their reservation. The State authorities have gone too far to retract their steps, and the Indians give no sign of an intention to retire. Sheriff Kendall started from Meeker Wednesday, with nine men to locate the Indians whom he found in camp near the old Thornburg battlefield. They were too smart for him, however, and got in his rear. After a stubborn fight, in which four of Kendall's men were wounded and three horses killed, the party succeeded in escaping, bringing their wounded to Meeker. This was the first white blood drawn in the conflict. Couriers were hastily sent to Glenwood, who met a company of fifty well armed volunteers from Aspen on the road and the latter party hastened forward. The information was conveyed also to Gen. West at Glenwood Springs, where the troops from Denver and other points are encamped. This morning the mounted men left Glenwood for the front with the possibility that they may encounter Indians on the road. A report came from Rawlins last night that stage passenger had reached there who declared that Kendall's men were deserting. This information evidently is old, as a similar report came from Glenwood and it was afterwards shown that Kendall had divided his forces. All of his original party finally reached Meeker.

Fatal Affray.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—A special from Pleasant Hills says: About noon Friday Maj. C. C. Dawson, an old and respected citizen of this place, was instantly killed by a man named Chas. Tabor. It seems that Maj. Dawson and Tabor had just finished a game of pool, and as the latter lost and had no money to pay for it he asked the Major to settle, which he did. The two then started down the street together when the Major jokingly remarked: "I guess I will have to lock you up." Tabor instantly drew a revolver and fired two shots which took effect in the Major's breast near the heart, causing instant death. When taken into custody a kit of burglars' tool was found in his possession and it is supposed that he believed Major Dawson to be a detective and he feared arrest.

Indiana's Financial Embarrassment.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 20.—The financial embarrassments of Indiana are growing more and more serious. The last dollar in the general fund of the State treasury was paid out to-day, and there are no resources that can be drawn upon before next December. In the meantime $200,000 will be needed to pay the current expenses of the State government and public institutions. Treasurer Lemke announces that he will call upon the counties to advance funds, but if they do so it will be voluntary, as the law does not require them to respond to such calls when they owe the State nothing. One effect of the exhaustion of the treasury will be the suspension of work upon all State institutions, of which several are now in course of erection.

Anti-Prohibition Republicans.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 20.—A mass meeting of anti-prohibition republicans was held last night to nominate independent candidates for the Legislature. About 125 well known republicans participated in it, and A. B. Cummings and Adam Baker were nominated as legislative candidates on a platform pledging them to support all republican principles except prohibition.

Suicide of two Women.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A disgusting stench recently filled a tenement on Charles street, and yesterday it grew so bad that the housekeeper notified the police, who found two women lying dead on a bed in an adjoining room, which was bespattered with blood and maggots crawling over the sheets. The women had been lying dead since Monday. They had committed suicide, as a razor and empty laudanum bottle were in a chair beside the bed.

Prize Fight.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 20.—Wm. Layton, of Bradford, Pa., and Ed. Ryan, of Detroit, fought 6 rounds with tight gloves, Marquis of Queensberry rules, near this city last night for a purse of $100. The battle was witnessed by about 100 sporting men and was bitterly contested. The purse was awarded to Ryan, although many considered the mill a draw.

Riddleberger Released.

WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 20.—Yesterday the grand jury found indictments against several participants in the delivery from jail of Senator Riddleberger, among them one against Deputy Sheriff Hattell for misdemeanor. The court to-day over-ruled a motion to quash this indictment and each of the parties indicted were released on their own recognizance. All the cases were then postponed until the next term, and the court adjourned.

Confession.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 20.—John Thomas Ross, colored, who is to be hanged here on Friday next for the murder of Emily Brown, an aged white woman, on the 10th of December last, has made a confession. It is precisely the same as his testimony on his own trial.

No Tidings of the Missing Boat.

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 20.—The steamer Bothnia, from Boston August 11 for Liverpool, arrived here to-day. The missing boat of the steamer City of Montreal, which was burned at sea on the 10th instant, was not seen by the Bothnia.

Fire.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 20.—Crawford's planing mill on Herr's Island, near here, was totally destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock this morning. Loss $15,000; partly insured.

The Baptist Association.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

LEESBURG, Aug. 19.—The Potomac Baptist Association convened with the Leesburg Baptist Church on Wednesday, August 17th. Dr. Isaac B. Lake was re-elected moderator, Rev. F. H. James clerk and Mr. Willie Adams treasurer. Among the visitors were Dr. J. Wm. Jones, Dr. A. E. Dickinson, Dr. Wm. E. Hatcher, Rev. R. H. Pitt, H. K. Ellison, esq., and T. J. Starke, esq., of Richmond; Rev. T. G. Jones, of Suffolk; Rev. G. M. Vanderliss, of New York; Dr. C. F. James, of Culpeper, Va. The subject of State missions, Sunday school and Bible school, ministers' relief fund, foreign missions, home missions, and education board were ably discussed by Drs. Hatcher, T. G. Jones, Hon. H. K. Ellison and others. During the time services were preached by Dr. C. F. James, Rev. J. R. Milbourne, Rev. R. H. Pitt, Dr. J. Wm. Jones, Dr. T. G. Jones and Rev. T. B. Shipperel. On Thursday night Dr. Wm. E. Hatcher, of Richmond, delivered quite a humorous lecture to a crowded house entitled "The advantages of the Modern Dance." His pointed humor and happy hits were greeted with rapturous applause. The hospitality of the people of Leesburg is all that could be asked of any community, and was dispensed with princely hands by one and all. Capt. Wm. E. Garrett was chairman of the committee on hospitality, and well indeed did he discharge his arduous duties. The Methodist Church was thrown open and occupied by the Baptist preachers daily. The Baptist delegations were entertained by denominations of every name. The association adjourned this evening to meet with the Alexandria church on the Wednesday before the 3d Sabbath in August, 1888.

INDICTED.—The grand jury at Woodstock

yesterday brought in a joint indictment for misdemeanor in rescuing Senator Riddleberger from jail against the following persons: John Ludwig, Jos. Holtzman, keeper of the Enclave House, at Edinburg, Va., and a personal and devoted friend of Senator Riddleberger, Milton Cooper, Chas. Ruby, William Ringes, all of the Edinburg, Va., and L. M. Hoshour, of Woodstock, son of the predecessor of the present jailer. An indictment for misdemeanor was also found against M. H. Hotel, the deputy sheriff who was with Senator Riddleberger in the jail. Messrs. Jas. H. Williams and R. J. Walker then made a motion to quash the indictment against Deputy Sheriff Hotel on the ground that three of the grand jurors were not sworn, or if sworn did not bear the oath taken by the foreman. Court adjourned and argument on this point will be heard to-day.

There was some surprise at the few persons indicted. It was thought that there were at least fifteen in the crowd which Deputy Sheriff Hotel and the jailer's family thought "a howling mob."

A friend of Riddleberger reports the Senator looking bright and fresh. He criticised very severely the finding of the grand jury, and will probably appear as counsel for the parties under indictment for rescuing him. He also declared his intention of cleaning up the court in a legal way in the near future.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon

the south-bound mail train on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad ran into a vehicle containing four white persons while crossing the railroad tracks between Bixton and Hallwood stations, 12 miles north of Quantico, Accomack county, Va. The horse was run over and killed and the vehicle torn to pieces. Lewis Bryd received internal injuries, from which he will probably die. Samuel J. Wessel, a boy, had his leg broken below his knee and was otherwise injured. Mrs. Bryd received some painful bruises, and Robert Taylor jumped from the vehicle in time to escape injury. A heavy rain was falling at the time of the accident, and the people in the vehicle had their umbrellas hoisted, which probably prevented them from seeing the approaching train.

Base Ball.

By losing a game to New York yesterday the Philadelphia club, which was tied with New York for third place, dropped to fifth, and Boston, by winning from Washington, passed Philadelphia and took fourth place. The narrow margins by which the Detroit and Chicago clubs hold the lead and the closeness with which the five leaders are grouped together makes the contest the most interesting and exciting in the history of the game. The record of championship games played by the League clubs to date is as follows:

Wm. Lost.	Wm. Lost.
Detroit..... 52	33 Philadelphia..... 48
Chicago..... 50	35 Pittsburgh..... 36
New York..... 49	29 Washington..... 32
Boston..... 47	35 Indianapolis..... 25

In the American Association the St. Louis club still has a strong lead, followed in order by Baltimore, Louisville, Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Athletic, Metropolitan and Cleveland.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, August 20.—The opening of the stock market this morning was quiet and steady, first prices showing only insignificant changes from yesterday's final figures. The slight animation noticeable at the opening quickly disappeared and the market settled down to the usual dullness. There was no movement in prices until after 10:30, when a general yielding took place, accompanied by an increase in the amount of business done, but the declines were for small fractions. The dullness again appeared toward the end of the hour, and at 11 o'clock the market was steady to firm. Money easy at 4 1/2.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 20.—Virginia 6s consolidated, 47 1/2; past-due coupons 63 1/2; new 3s 61 1/2; 10-40s 36 1/2 to-day.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: $167,500 Reserve, decrease, 2,231,676; Loans, decrease, 2,231,676; Specie, decrease, 1,537,201; Legal tenders, decrease, 31,000; Deposits, decrease, 5,529,083; Circulation, decrease, 2,588. The banks now hold in excess of the 25 per cent. rule, 4,265,675.

ALEXANDRIA MARKET, August 20.—There is no change to note in prices of grain since yesterday. Sales of 2,334 bushels of Wheat were made at 68 1/2 for Fultz, and 78 for mixed. 500 bushels of white Corn brought 55 1/2, and one small lot of Oats 32.

BALTIMORE, August 20.—Cotton dull and nominal; middling 9 1/2. Flour steady and firm.
